KTIMA VOGIATZI

2003 Vin de Pays Velvendos

Vogiatzis, the enologist from Boutari, produced a bright, rich wine from his own estate this year, intense in its violet-scented purple fruit and spice...

Santorini Barrel

Right now, barrel tones compete with vibrant lemon pith flavors in this assyrtiko. The finish, however, is pure Santorini chalk, sunny and savory. Give it at least a year before opening it. It will be delicious with roasted fish, but it has the powerful structure to stand up to lamb, especially in a lemon sauce.

Santorini Atlantis

This is tight and herbai, its chalky minerality holding the wine in a vine grip. That tension gives it energy, speeding the wine with laserlike focus toward oysters or any raw, sweet seafood.

CRETA OLYMPIAS

2005 Crete Vin de Crete

Creta Olympias creates this Beaujolais-bright red from the traditional Cretan blend of kotsafali and mandilaria. Its bright red raspberry flavors are balanced with pleadingly bitter almond note; for warm-weather cookouts.

CRETA OLYMPIAS

Crete Mediterra Vilana

Light, sweet orange and floral notes blend in this ripe, sunny white, a lively quaff for fried sardines.

MOUNDRIZAS

Nemea Agioritiko

A light agioritiko redolent of fresh-crushed raspberries, this is a simple, quaffable red to chill for charcuterie.

CAMBAS

2004 Mantinia

Floral notes lead into a ripe, orange-toned wine, green herbal notes giving it a refreshing edge. Chill for roast asparagus.

CRETA OLYMPIAS

Crete Ymnos

A traditional Cretan red, this is thirst-quenching with tart cranberry flavors spiked with cinnamon-like spice. Its cool flavors would pair well with pork ribs.
